"Do so," said Mr. Lincolne"write it now while you have it on your mind .-Make it sharp; cut him all up."

Stanton did not need a second invifation. It was a bone crusher that he read to the President.

"That's right," said Abe. "that's a good one,"

"Whom can I get to send it by! mused the Secretary.

"Send it!" replied Lincoln, "send it! Why, don't send it at all. Tear it up. You have freed your mind on the subject and that is all that is necessary. Tear it up. You never want to send such letters; I never do.

There was a world of wisdon in Lincoln's suggestion. Write your letter, free your mind, and then put it in the drawer a week, then read it over and burn it up and say no more about it .-The Christian.

USES NEWSPAP ES ONLY.

I never in my life used such a thing ss a poster or dodger or hand-bill, say John Wanamaker, in the Wool and Cotton Reporter. My plan for twenty years has been to buy so much space in a newspaper and fill it up as I wanted. I would not give an advertisement in a newspaper of five hundred circulation newspaper of five hundred circulation for five thousand dodgers or posters.

If I wanted to sell cheap jewelry or run a gambling scheme I might use posters; but I would not insult a decent reading public with hand bills.

The class of people who read them are too poor to look to support in mercantile affairs. I deal directly with the publisher. I say to him.

the publisher. I say to him:

"How long will you let me run column of matter through your paper for $100 or $500?" as the case may be I let him do the figuring, and if I think he is not trying to take more than his share I give him the copy. I lay aside the profits on a particular line of goods for advertising purposes. At first I laid saide $3,000; last year

I laid aside and spent $40,000. I have done better this year, and shall in-crease the sum as the profits warrant it. I owe my success to newspapers, and to them I freely give a certain profit of my yearly business

KITTENS FIND A STRANGE NURE

A very curious incident is reported from the village of Brockenhurst, in the New Forest, says the Westminister Gazette. A few days since a cat belonging to Mr. G. Foot, the landlord of the Morant Arm Hotel, gave birth to five kittens in a hay loft. They were removed to a crib in a stall, in which a broody hen had been sitting on some china eggs. The hen resented the interference, and on making her way to the nest promptly drove the cat away from her charge, and ever since has remained in possession, gathering, the kittens under her wing as if they were chickens. To enable the cat to suckle her offspring the hen has to be forcibly removed and the door tocked agains her, but as soon as the door is opened she returns to the kittens, and pussy is obliged to beat a hasty retreat .-

Should one of the kittens topple over the side of the pox in which they are placed onto the floor, the hen, instantly misses it, and leaves the others to search for it.

This great book tells all about a medicine that is an unfailing care for all weakness and disease of the delicate organs distinctly feminine. That medicine is Dr. Pierce's Fevorite Prescription. During the past thirty years many flourands of women have used it with marvelous results. It imparts health, vigor, virility, strength and elasticity to the organs that bear the burdens of materaity. It its for wifehood and motherhood. Taken during the period of gestation, it makes the coming of baby easy and almost painless. It completely handishes the pain and misery that are the result of a woman's neglecting her womanly health. An honest medicine dealer will give you what you ask for, and not try to persuade you to take some inferior substitute for the little added profit he may make thereon.
